WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—War Department, Office of the Chief Signal Officer, Washington, D. C., Sept. 10, 1877-10:30 a. m.-For the Middle States and New England rising and stationary barometer stationary or higher temperature, cloudy and rainy weather, with fog on the coast, and southeast to southwest winds, possibly increasing to brisk on the Middle Atlantic eoast.

THE MOFFETT REGISTER.—The bond ie. quired by Judge Hughes, to be given by the defendants in the Moffet register case, in this city, was perfected in Richmond yesterday. It is given to David G. Yuengling, jr.; peoalty, $20,000. Principal, Fountaine D. Johnson. Sureties, James G. Field, Daniel Grimsley, Samuel H. Moffett, H. C. Burrows, E. B. Hill, A. J. Armstrong, J. S. Armstrong, G. D. Gray, E. Burgess, jr., and A. R. Alcock. The condition of the bond is "that the said Fountaine D. Johnson should account to the said plaintiff for the number of registers commonly called the Moffett Register which he had theretofore or might thereafter manufacture or sell, and to account for all profits according to him from such manufacture and sale; and should make good to the said complainant all damages which he might sustain by reason of the manufacture and sale of said instruments, and should pay to the said complainant such profits, damages, and all cost awarded or decreed against the said defendant in case the complainant should hereafter establish by the decree or decrees of this court in this suit or any other suit that may be brought under an order of this court that the said defendant hath in such manufacture and sale infringed the patent of said complainant and filed as an exhibit with his bill." Mr. Johnson the manufacturer of the registers was in Richmond, yesterday, and to gether with the Commissioner of the Revenue was busily engaged in sealing and fitting them in place. It was expected that all the saloons in Richmond would be supplied by this evening. It is supposed that this and the other cities of the Commonwealth will be surplied in a few days as the manufacture of the machines is proceeding rapidly.

VIRGINIA MIDLAND RAILROAD. -Although travel over the railroads throughout the country has sensibly decreased this past season, on account of the stringency of the times, and the main lines, generally, have seriously felt the diminution, we are pleased to know that the Virginia Midland road has suffered in this re spect comparatively little, nearly all the travel to the mountains of Virginia and West Virginia having passed over this route. Travelers to the springs and all others speak in terms the most complimentary of the road, its equipment and its management. The road bed is in fine condition, the rolling stock in thorough repair. the passenger coaches equaling in elegance those on any other line in the country, while the officers are polite and accommodating gentlemen. Many who have recently passed over this road have spoken of the case and comfort they enjoyed on their journey and the promptness with which the trains are : un, the excellent speed made, and the freedom from acei dents of all kinds. The freight business of the road has also increased to a considerable extent, especially in the transportation of cattle.

ASSAULT IN FAIRFAX .- The Gazette's correspondent at Fairfax C. H. furnishes the foilowing additional particulars regarding the assault mentioned in yesterday's Gazetie: Oa Sunday last three negroes and two white men, Wm. Hamilton and Jim Barker, from Burke's Station, who had imbibed too freely of the ardent, went to the house of florace Gibson. an old blacksmith living near here, and commenced demolishing his carriage, &c. Gibson remonstrated with them, when the whole five knocked him down, kicked cut one eye, broke his nose and injured him horribly internally and externally. The three negroes were arrested by citizens, and with difficulty lodged in jail. A mob of 100 colored people having as sembled, swore to lynch them, and the citizens had trouble in preventing them. Warrants were to day issued for the two white scoundrels.

CANAL ITEMS. - The Cumberland Alleganian has the following :-"To day the boats will be loaded to their usual capacity. The water in the canal has been raised to sufficient depth to allow an increase of 3 inches in the water mark of the boat, which will now be 4 feet 9 inches.

"The oldest canal boat now shipping on the canal is the Industry, belonging to Mr. Mitchell, of Hancock. It was built in 1864, and has since been continually used in the shipping of coal, not lying idle a single summer. The tim ber in the boat is about worn out, and it is thought that her trip of last week is about the last she will make. The present captain of the irg the public that CHAMP FAUNTLEROY boat is Mr. Geoffrey.'

The shipments of coal from Cumberland last week by canal comprised 243 boats, carrying 25,400 tops.

KING STREET.-The work of repairing King street has been suspended for several days on account of the bad weather. The paving is now completed to St. Asaph street, and the Equare between that and Washington street is torn up. It is quite probable that Washington or Columbus street will be the limit to which the repaving will be carried this fall, as the appropriation for streets is nearly exhausted, with the exception of a portion reserved for necessary cleaning and repair work.

COMMITTEE ON STREETS.-The Committee on Streets, of the City Council, held its regular meeting last night, at the Auditor's office. Most of the business transacted was of the ordinary routine character. A number of colored men who had been employed by the sub-contractor for repaying Duke street were on hand, in regard to some dispute about their wages. The committee settled the matter to the satisfaction of all concerned.

WARD'S BRAKE.-Mr. Wm. H. Ward, of this city, has received a letter from the Super intendent of the Southern Central Railroad of New York, who has had Ward's patent brake 9.000 stoppages the brake has not failed once and will therefore be adopted on his road, Address to Virginians by Major Drew-ry, President of the Virginia Agri-cultural Society.

OFFICE OF THE VIRGINIA STATE AGRI CULTURAL SOCIETY, RICHMOND, September 7, 1877.

The near approach of the next fair of the State Agricultural Society suggests the proprie ty of a brief appeal to you in behalf of the society. Its fairs exert an important influence on the material interests of the people, and its work in collecting and disseminating important information bearing on practical agriculture, horticulture, stock breeding, manufactures, domestic economy, &c., &c., brings it in contact with and constitutes it a friend of all efforts to

It is not a corporation laboring for the sel fish ends of corporators, but from the terms of its constitution and charter has a noble and at this port. disinterested work to perform. With one exception it has no paid officers, and all its resources are devoted, in the words of its constitution, to the "advancement of agriculture and of Grant Court House, West Virginia, was the auxiliary mining and mechanic arts." It has the highest claims, therefore, to the confidence and support of all classes of the community. The life membership, which constitutes the corporate strength of the organization and reg ulates its affairs, should embrace men and women from every county in the State, and of all occupations; and when brought together anqually for a short recreation from the labors of the year, for information to be gained and than Douglas knocked him down, snatched his acquaintance formed by contact and association, pistol, and ran out of the building. The jailor's for inspection and study of the large display of the products of the farm, garden, orchard, fleeing man was followed by a number of ex vineyard, mines, and factories, of animals and poultry, and of the household arts, not one tance from a dense wood, toward which he was will return home without a feeling of satisfaction that something has been gained, and with out also a feeling of just pride in the people confinement had relaxed his muscles and told and the resources of the Commonwealth. Why, on him so severely that he gave out. Finding ther, should just expectations be disappointed he would inevitably be overtaken, he turned in respect to this membership? The cost is desperately at bay, and would have had the small to each individual; say twenty dellars in blood of more people to answer for had not the cash, or five dollars annually for five years. jailor's revolver been like that of too many of-The aggregate should be large, and would enable the society to expand its efforts for useful- aim and snapped or tried to snap it severel ness in many ways. Now if but one in ten of this cumber would identify himself with the society by becoming a member upon the terms indicated there would be ten thousand new members, bringing in the aggregate two bundred thousand dollars. with a reasonable annual increase, which would afford an income sufficient to double the annual premium list of the society and largely increase its means for the general good in other respects, and each member at the same time have an am ple consideration for his expenditure. The privilege of the fairs for the period of his life, together with his wife and children under twentyone years of age and unmarried daughters, and his constituent voice in the general management of the secrety, to say nothing of incidental and other advantages, furnish a valid and adequate and public interest, virtue and credit.

The coming fair promises to be one of the best since the war, or, indeed, in the history of the society, and as a grand remain of the best men and fairest women of the old Commonwealth, it firme; and higher at 65a70. Hay, Butter and pleasure. Bear in mind, however, that the great at $1.13. The people in every county of the State should organize a club of membership, and thus bring to be a considerate with ship, and thus bring to bear an influence which will be felt and diversified throughout the Com-monwealth. With such local efforts to be concentrated in the society, the citizens of all sections and all occupations will be brought together, not only in their annual reunions, but in their daily thoughts and labors, which contrib-ute to individual, State and national prosperity. The officers of the society expect a large attendance at the Fair, and they will greet and wel-come all who may come; but they carnestly hope that the question of membership will not be overlooked, as this more than all else gives vigor and effect to all that the Society is designed to accomplish. It gives me pleasure to add that on the second day of the Fair the annual address will be delivered on the grounds by that distinguished citizen and planter, Gov. Hampton, of South Car-lina, and that President Hayes will be present on that day and probably on the next The recent circumstances which have brought these gentlemen so prominently before the nation a.e. famil ar to all, and the satisfactory manner in which each has discharged his public trust commends them to cor il dence, and the large assentblage of Virginians on the occasion will be glad to welcome and do them honor. FAIRFAX C. H., VA., Sept. 10, 1877.

To the editor of the Alexandria Gazette:

With all due deference and respect for the dictum of my friend Mr. D. Mc. Chichester, as published in the Gazette of the 8th lostant, in speaking of his having voted against the conservative candidate and for the republican he says 'three other candidates stand condemned for a similar offence," and names Capt. Powell as having voted for McKerzie and against Braxton, and that Col. Simpson and Mr. Farr supported Barbour against Hunton. Speaking for myself alone and not for others, I take issue with Mr. Chichester as to there being any condempation at all, or similarity of offence between our respective conduct as cited by him In supporting Barbour it was one conservative supporting another, who believed himself to have been wronged in convention, both in the city of Alexandria and in Scott Township, Fauquier county, and the result of the election that followed showed how general was that belief throughout the Eighth Congressional District. In Mr. Chichester's case he went over to the other side for a personal grudge, or something of that sort. Let the public decide between us I am willing that Mr. Chichester shall be heard and have a chance to defend his conduct when assailed by others, but I object to his doing so at my expense by attempting to draw impossible parallele; besides he seems now to kick against the State Executive Committee, but I I shall spare no effort to deserve their future find at a township meeting held at the Court House, August 8th, 1874, there were present patronage, at my new atom, No 62 King street Mesers.
